Dr. Clayton Gets 2 Top Fellowships

Dr. Roderick K. Clayton has been granted two fellowships for further study in bio-chemistry. Rushing to the mail box Tuesday (fellowship notification day) on his return from Pasadena he found telegrams telling him he had been awarded a senior postdoctoral fellowship by the National Science Foundation and another postdoctoral fellowship from the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis.

Civilian member of the Naval Postgraduate School faculty, teaching physics and biology, Dr. Clayton has been doing research on behavioral responses in bacteria. He will use his two fellowships to study in England at Oxford University with Professor D. D. Woods, Iveagh professor of chemical microbiology, and in Norway with Professor Helge Larsen of Trondheim.

With his wife, Betty Jean, and two children, Ricky and Anne, Dr. Clayton plans to leave Carmel during the first week in June, sailing for England from New York on July 3. He will spend 15 months abroad, almost one year at Oxford and several months in Norway.

Dr. Clayton's departure will create a vacancy on the board of the Carmel Unified School District. He was elected last May to serve a four year term.

The previous year he served as

City Planning Board Will Recommend Almost All Of Livingston's Plan

Members of the Carmel Planning Commission, after some differing yesterday afternoon in study session, decided to recommend nine parts of the Lawrence Livingston, Jr. Master Plan to the city council with amendments.

Chairman George Willox was for recommending the plan to the city council unchanged.

"Will this plan satisfy us 25 years from now?" asked Commissioner Herbert Blanks, "personally, if I had all the money and influence in the world I would not want parts of this plan. It is my thought that citizens' opinions expressed in public hearings should help us modify the plan to have what Carmel wants."

Blanks was supported by Commissioner Fred Keeble who felt that the Livingston Plan was a "brief outline" and should be corrected by the Planning Commissioners.

Commissioner Lee Gottfried said: "Let's get the plan out of the way. Throw it out or adopt it."

Commissioner Florence Josselyn thought a new zoning ordinance was "of utmost importance" to protect Carmel, more important than a plan.

City Clerk Larry Rose took the opportunity at this point to urge the matter of "Time! time! time!" to the Commissioners who should have the Plan in some form to present to the city council for public hearings "at least 30 to 60 days" before a new zoning ordinance must be adopted by the council on November 15.

"Let's get to work right now," said Commissioner Blanks. Provided with maps of the central district and whole planning area, prepared by Livingston, they got to work.

All parts of the Master Plan not recommended informally by the Commissioners yesterday afternoon will be held for further study. What they did decide to recommend to the City Council is as follows.

(1) There will be an orange zone. The location and contents of this zone will be held for further study.

Ted Fehring Files For Candidate Of School Dist. Board

Ted Fehring, business man and father of five school age daughters, will run for the Carmel Unified School District Board in the May 16 election. He mailed his declaration of candidacy to the office of the county school superintendent yesterday.

Expiration of J. O. Handley's term in June creates the vacancy. Mr. Handley, who has served several terms as chairman of the board, announced a month ago that he would not run for re-election.

Time To Attend Colorado River Film Before Fashion Show

On Friday evening, March 22, at 8:00 o'clock Charles Eggert, famed outdoor cinematographer, whose movies of the Green and Yampa Rivers did so much to help win the battle against Echo Park Dam in Utah last year, will present a movie color film in Sunset Auditorium of a thrilling 700-mile trip down the Green and Colorado Rivers. The film has a specially composed music track and stereophonic sound effects of the rapids. It is presented on a portable 25-foot wide screen with Cinemascope effect.

The film is unique in that it is the seventh successful trip down the rivers and will be the last, since dams are now being built on the rivers. The program will be over at 9:30. This will give people time to attend the Fashion Show at the High School, which lasts till midnight.

Council Sits Tight On Unincorp. Deal Until After Vote

At a special meeting Friday night the Carmel City Council heard Fire Commissioner Carl Patnude outline the offer of the Carmel Unincorporated Fire District for a mutual agreement with Carmel (see display ad page three for terms of the proposed agreement).

Patnude and the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department favor the proposal since they feel that it will strengthen Carmel Fire Protection facilities, and "not cost the city anything."

Councilman Francis Whitaker thought that a number of more facts would have to be furnished

PATTERSON REZONING HEARING TUESDAY

Hearing on the Steve Patterson request for rezoning his land on Garrapata Creek between the coast and Highway No. 1 for bar and restaurant use will be held before the County Planning Commission in Salinas Tuesday morning, 10:00 o'clock.

The planning commission, after eleven months' study, denied the request in the interest of protecting the scenic coast. When the decision was appealed to the supervisors they returned it to the planning commission for further study.

Highlands Association, State Park and individual citizens interested in preserving the natural beauty of the coast oppose the rezoning.

Carmel Unincorporated Questions, Argues About And Then Endorses Fire Protection District Tax

"I promise you that as long as we are serving you, 50 cents is it. If we can't get it one place, we'll get it some place else—but you'll have the best fire protection 50 cents will buy."

James Pruitt's sincerity convinced some 275 residents of the unincorporated areas adjacent to Carmel, who filled the seats, stood along the walls, perched on the tables in the cafeteria at Carmel High School Tuesday night.

Shortly after Mr. Pruitt's promise, Howard Bucquet made a motion that "we give a vote of confidence to our fire commissioners and support them in their efforts to establish a fire district."

Over two hundred hands went up for the yes vote; eight, no.

The meeting was called by Carmel Unincorporated to explain the "blank check" election Tuesday, March 26, 7:00 to 7:00 o'clock at Carmel High School. The residents will vote on whether or not they wish to empower their fire commissioners to levy a tax to provide fire protection.

Some of the residents objected because there will be no maximum tax figure on the ballot. The amount of the tax will be left to the discretion of the three fire commissioners appointed by the County Board of Supervisors.

James Pruitt, chairman of the three-man fire board read a statement of the program the fire commissioners had worked out (printed in full in a display advertisement on page three this issue of the Pine Cone.)

It concerns people who own property inside as well as outside the city limits of Carmel, since it proposes an agreement with Carmel for mutual protection. Outside would provide a fire engine (1000 gallon pumper) to be kept in the Carmel Fire House for joint use, and pay salaries for three full time firemen. Carmel would have use of the additional fire equipment and men; and it would undertake to put out unincorporated fires.

This would reduce unincorporated's insurance rates 34 percent, and give additional protection to Carmel, he said.

Mr. Pruitt, reporting on the Carmel city council meeting Friday night, said, "they did not wish to commit themselves because they didn't want to influence the election. If the election is successful, they will meet with our commissioners and go into details. I feel there is very good opportunity to work out an agreement with them. In our opinion we feel there is a very good, strong chance of the agreement working out. And we'd like you to go to the election with this thought. Also, we will not go over 50 cents. I think we can stay at 40 cents."

The 40 cents would take care of costs of unincorporated's contribution to a mutual agreement with Carmel, he said.

Failing that, independent fire

Track season officially opens for Coach Fred Rainer's thinclads this Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock when the King City Mustangs invade the Padre campus. King City has been to the post once this season, engaging in a three-way meet with Salinas and Gonzales. The Mustangs are known to be strong in the hurdles, pole-vault, and middle distance races, but the rest of the squad has been untried in league competition.

Veteran performers on the Carmel squad are Mike McCormick, 880; Don Petty, shotput; Phil White and Phil Durbrow, pole-vault; John Stewart, 440 and high-jumps; Bert Macahilig, sprints; Art Wilkerson and Buzz Richardson, milers; Clyde Klaumann, 440 and shotput; and David Tobiassen, hurdles. Best practice performances on the Padre squad show Don Petty tossing the 12-pound shot 51 feet, Art Wilkerson fliriting with a 5-minute mile, Hampton Stewart high jumping 5-10, and pole-vaulters White and Durbrow soaring close to 11 feet.

Saturday's meet should be evenly contested with Carmel's depth tipping the scales in favor of the Padres.

LIVE OAK NINE AT CARMEL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Coach Marty Mullins brings his baseball team, to Carmel this Friday afternoon to open the 1957 veteran Live Oak High varsity B-division season. The wily Oak mentor is high on his team this year and figures to be right near the top when the final statistics are in. Equipped with the top pitcher in the league, lefty Jim Hall, Live Oak has a veteran performer at every position and has a strong bench backing up the starters. The Oaks have had four weeks of practice already and are primed for a winning shot at the Padres. Live Oak has never beaten Carmel in baseball and the inexperienced Padres will have to give out with a 200% effort if they want to keep the situation that way.

Carmel's pitching selection for this one will be made from a trio of flingers which includes two righties and a lefty. Cim Conway and Parker Pollock cast off from the starboard side while Tim O'Shea serves them up from the port side. O'Shea is the quickest and has the most stuff but is prone to streaks of wildness which get him in trouble. Conway has shown good control and has a live fast ball but needs experience in pitching mechanics while working on the mound. Pollock is a good clutch pitcher with plenty of courage and has a sharp breaking curve to go with a fair fast ball.

Carmel's infield will be manned by Joe Mason, catcher; Charley Dawson, first-base; Walt Helm, second-base; Andy Gray, third-base, and Mike Gahagan at short-stop. Dennis Peavey is the utility infielder for the Padres.

In the outfield, the Padres will go with Dale Dawson in left, Neil Giarratana, center, and Mal Burdis in right. Bob Durbrow is the number four man in the Carmel fly-chasing gang.

Friday's game is slated for 3:30 and the public is invited free of charge.

IT'S BETTER TO LIVE RICH Than Die Rich!

This is a pretty smart proverb.

How often people have said, "Some day I'd like to have a Hammond Organ. I'd love to roll out those big chords, pull out all those orchestra combinations . . ."

Well, what are you waiting for?

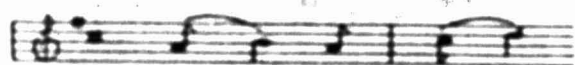

It's easier than you think to play a Hammond Organ. Even simple tunes sound rich and grand, with all the thousands of tone combinations a Hammond gives you.

And you don't have to be rich to live rich! The Spinnet Model costs only $135 down, with three years to pay.

Come in—and see what it's like to live a little!

CARMEL UNINCORPORATED FIRE DISTRICT ELECTION

WHY DO WE NEED A FIRE DISTRICT?

Carmel Unincorporated Fire Protection District, as defined on the District map is CARMEL UNINCORPORATED, an area containing an increasing concentration of residential development which can no longer be satisfactorily serviced, for fire protection purposes, by the specialized facilities of the State Division of Forestry, which is primarily intended for fighting brush and forest fires. Because of this limited protection, insurance rates in the district as fixed by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau are some 34 percent higher than they would be if we had fire fighting services adequate to our needs. Reduction of insurance rates is a worthwhile consideration, but the PROTECTION OF OUR HOMES, POSSESSIONS AND LIVES IS OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE.

HOW DO WE GET FIRE PROTECTION?

For four years the proposition of obtaining adequate fire protection has been studied. Considering growth pattern, economics and a sense of community identity the most advantageous program to appear has been the proposal to enter into a mutual fire protection program with the City of Carmel. On February 21, 1957 the District Commissioners placed before a meeting of Carmel Unincorporated the proposal that the District proceed to negotiate with the City towards the establishment of such a program. The idea was strongly approved. It was carried to the City of Carmel and on the basis of several discussions there is a sound reason to believe the agreement can be concluded on a mutually acceptable basis.

WHAT IS THE MUTUAL AGREEMENT?

1. Two trucks from the Carmel Fire Department would respond to any fire in the district, as well as equipment from the State Division of Forestry and if the fire was major and critical, from other mutual aid agencies, such as Monterey, Carmel Highlands and Pacific Grove.
2. Fire fighting would be under professional direction of the Carmel Fire Chief, together with the experienced Carmel Volunteer Fire Department coordinated through an extensive alarm and communications system.

3. The District would purchase and equip a 1000 gallon pumper to be placed in the Carmel Fire house for joint use.
4. The District would provide funds for the employment of three full time firemen and a fair share of the Volunteer program, maintenance of the district truck hose, communications, supplies, insurance, etc.
5. The District will pay rental on 50 fire hydrants within the district.

WHAT ARE YOU VOTING FOR?

1. The tangible benefits of adequate protection at the lowest practicable cost to the district.
2. Reduction of insurance rates for the individual property owner by 34 percent as assured by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau.
3. An adaptable agreement in which the district retains control of its own program.

GO TO THE POLLS AT CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1957
7:00 A. M. to 7:00 P. M.

The Commissioners of the District have determined this program can be accomplished with a Tax Rate not to exceed 50 cents on each 100 dollars of assessed valuation. The Taxpayer is protected by due process of law against any arbitrary action of the commissioners to exceed the extent of the program as outlined. Public hearings on budgets and the right of appeal to the Board of Supervisors guarantees the proceedings WILL BE BUSINESS-LIKE and in the best DEMOCRATIC TRADITIONS.

protection could be provided for 50 cents, "and we'd still have the services of Carmel Hill Department."

Dr. Ralph Weston did not agree that there was "a strong chance of the agreement working out." He said he was one of the seven people in the audience at the Friday city council meeting. The mutual agreement, "was supposed to be a cinch, but a very astute gentleman, Mr. Whitaker, threw the blocks." He added, "we don't want a fire district being used as a political football for annexation," and, "this is going to go up to a quarter of a million dollars before you're through," concluding: "people who work can't go to hearings (which are held in the day-time working hours.) Districts can be formed and perpetuate themselves without the consent of the people."

This comment was directed at Assistant District Attorney's John Thornberry's explanation earlier in the evening when he said that a maximum tax rate didn't appear on the ballot because the residents, when they had petitioned the supervisors to form the fire district, had not asked for a tax ceiling; they could have a tax ceiling if they wanted to form another fire district, but they'd been two years forming this one, and if the election were postponed, they'd not be able to get on the tax role for another year. They did have protection against an excessive tax rate since the fire commissioners were required to set up a budget and hold two public hearings on it; also, a petition representing 10 percent of the assessed property valuation of the district could protest an item of capital outlay to the supervisors, and a petition representing one-fourth of the total assessed property valuation could protest items of operating expense. "To say nothing of the pressure this group could bear at a public hearing."

John Walsh was in favor of holding up the election for a year "so that we can set up another district, setting a limit on the tax."

R. Rolleston West said it would be years before the reduction in insurance rates would compensate for cost of fire protection; nor did he think they could get fire protection for 50 cents.

It was at this stage of the meeting that Mr. Pruitt made his promise.

Robert L. Little assured the meeting that a reduction in insurance rates would follow improved fire protection, and Mrs. Gladys Johnston said that the extra tax will be nominal: "If we're going to gripe about it, we don't deserve to live here. Let's get together and get our fire protection."

Supervisor Tom Hudson urged "trust your commissioners and go ahead and get your fire district."

This was the cue for Howard Bucquet's motion, Capt. Archer Allen, who presided over the meeting, called for the vote.

Carmel was represented at the meeting by City Councilman John Chitwood who said the city council felt there was division among the people outside the city limits on the fire district issue and "the council feels that we cannot go to the people until you make up your minds."

Assistant Carmel Fire Chief John

Etna Ryan

Mrs. Etna Guichard Ryan died on Thursday in Santa Cruz after a long illness. Mrs. Ryan with her sisters, Stella Guichard Lalor and Mae Guichard McGrury, opened Carmel's first dry goods, dressmaking and dressmaking supplies shop in the early days of the village. Known as Stella's, the store was situated for many years at the corner of Dolores and Ocean Avenue.

Mrs. Ryan was born in New Orleans, Louisiana, in 1889. She came here with her sister, Stella, to establish their business in 1914, in the location now occupied by the Bank of Carmel. Later Stella's moved across the street to the corner where Fortier's Drug Store is located.

Later when the business moved to a new building on Dolores Street above Sixth Street, Mrs. Ryan, who had retired, returned here for a year to help her sister, Mrs. McGrury, establish the shop in its new modern location, now occupied by Mason's.

Survivors besides Mrs. McGrury, are two sisters, Mrs. Stella Lalor and Mrs. Odessa Gilson, both of Santa Cruz; a brother, Waldo Guichard of Ben Lomond, and Mrs. Ryan's husband, J. G. Ryan of Santa Cruz.

Funeral services were held in Santa Cruz on Saturday and Requiem Mass was celebrated the same day in the Star of the Sea Church in Santa Cruz.

Herbert Coffman

Herbert Coffman, retired cement industry engineer, died early this morning at his home at Third and Lobos Streets.

Mr. Coffman was born in Pennsylvania on October 15, 1879. He came to live in Carmel in 1948 from Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania.

He is survived by his wife, Lara Rawlins Coffman of Carmel, and a son, Rawlins Coffman of Red Bluff.

Funeral services are pending and will be announced later by Paul's Mortuary.

THE WILDERNESS CONFERENCE

I have just returned from the 5th Biennial Wilderness Conference, held under the sponsorship of the Sierra Club at the Hotel Fairmont in San Francisco. I attended the first of this series of conferences in 1949 at the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley. At that first conference a hundred or so California conservationists met with a group of High Sierra packers and discussed mainly questions concerned with the protection of High Sierra wilderness from various forms of overuse. It was very informal and there were many spontaneous expressions of appreciation of wilderness values, as seen by various participants.

At this 5th Conference there were 375 registrants and probably 400 in attendance. Among those participating were heads of the country's five most important governmental agencies in the conservation field and leaders of almost all the important conservation organizations from all parts of the country. Somebody wisecracked that if a bomb should fall on the gathering, the conservation movement in this country would be set back a hundred years.

These figures make a graphic presentation of the growth of interest in wilderness conservation in the West in the intervening years. In the East growth has been faster, because it has been easier to see there at first hand the results of problems of population pressure and lack of wilderness protection. Now at long last, with California destined within a very few years to be the country's most populous state, these problems are receiving some of the attention that they should have had long ago.

At the beginning of the Conference someone questioned the good of a group of this kind getting together and talking among themselves about problems of wilderness conservation. The Conference certainly didn't make the headlines of any newspaper, though it received more attention in the San Francisco papers than some of the previous conferences have, but I think that its main value came from "recharging our batteries", as someone expressed it, and from the contacts with the government administrators.

The details of the program can only be suggested within the limits of this column. The subject for the first two days was "Our Scenic Open-space Resources". The main speakers were Lowell Sumner, biologist of the National Park Service, one of the pioneers in the movement to set aside wilderness preserves in Alaska; Starker Leopold, Professor of Zoology at the University of California and one of the country's leading experts on wildlife management; Miss Harlean James, Executive Secretary of the American Planning and Civic Association; and David Brower, Executive Director of the Sierra Club.

In the evening the banquet program was under the direction of Dr. Robert C. Miller, Director of the California Academy of Sciences, and the speakers stressed the value of seashore wilderness and the rather recent necessity of protecting it from the depredations of the skin divers.

The program on the second day featured addresses by heads of five of the government's largest agencies connected with the administration of our natural resources. They were concerned mainly with the wilderness aspects of their work. Discussion periods stressed many points of controversy in these areas and the value of conferences of this kind in resolving them.

Dr. Shutes Reading Proofs On New Book

Dr. Milton H. Shutes is busy reading galley proofs of his book Lincoln's Emotional Life which is to be published late this spring or early in the summer by Dorrance publishing house of Philadelphia. The front jacket of the book illustrates the author's feeling about Lincoln. It shows Dr. Shutes as a tiny "match man" posed before the huge Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. The picture was taken some years ago by Mrs. Shutes when Dr. and Mrs. Shutes, with their children, were visiting the Capital.

The new book is the result of nearly nine years study by Dr. Shutes. He has already published one book on Lincoln called Lincoln And The Doctors which he feels is just a preliminary to the present volume. He spent the intervening time studying anthropology, psychiatry and psychology, in preparation for writing about Lincoln's emotional problems in face of the many momentous decisions Lincoln was called upon to make during his life.

Formerly a practicing physician in Berkeley, Dr. Shutes is now retired and living with Mrs. Shutes in Carmel. The study of Lincoln began as a hobby during his years of active medical practice.

Harlan Ware's Play Is Great Success At Texas First Night

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ware are in Texas where they attended the opening of The Man On A Stick at the Civic Theatre in Victoria. Harlan is co-author of the comedy with his brother, Leon Ware, TV and short story writer whose work is published in national magazines.

"The play was a great success," reports Harlan's father, Will L. Ware, former editor of the Dry Goods Reporter in Chicago.

"You should see the newspaper reviews," he continued, "after the first night it was a complete sell-out."

"Director Charles Thomas went from Carmel to see the play and he's so enthusiastic he wants to produce it here in the Circle Theatre next summer."

Mr. Ware Sr. says that Victoria is one of the wealthiest communities in the United States, situated in the Texas oil fields. The Civic Theatre is remarkable his son Harlan has written him and the stage settings were "immense."

Harlan and Ruth Ware will be back in Carmel on Monday. While in Texas Mrs. Ware visited her mother in San Antonio. Harlan Ware is the author of radio's One Man's Family.

Col. Furlong On Tea, Eucalyptus, Sheikhs As Rooters

"Why is California ruining its natural assets and destroying its heritage?" asks Colonel C. W. Furlong, explorer and retired army officer, who, with Mrs. Furlong, is here until April 1 on an annual visit to California.

Particular worry of Colonel Furlong this trip is the felling of "the most magnificent stand of eucalyptus in the world" to widen Highway 101 five miles north of King City. World traveller Furlong stopped for two hours to photograph this destruction and see engineers. He has written a letter asking that the State preserve the remaining one third mile of trees as yet uncut.

During the winter Colonel Furlong gave a tea in his Scituate, Massachusetts, home using tea preserved from the Boston Tea-party shipment served in antique "tea dishes". Known as gunpowder tea because of its yellow color, the tea proved, when brewed, to still have flavor even though 183 years old. The longer and thicker tea leaves than those used today originally belonged to Susanna Dabney and were bequeathed to Mrs. Furlong by Mrs. Howard Davis of Auburn, California. The tea in an old lacquered chest has been a family heirloom.

Also this winter, while visiting in Annapolis, Colonel Furlong watched the delighted reactions of King Ibn Saud and his suite of ten sheikhs as they watched a basketball game between the Naval Academy and Duke University. The sheikhs really applauded the "long shots" says Colonel Furlong.

Ethel Whitcomb

Miss Ethel Whitcomb died on Saturday morning in a local rest home after a long illness.

She was born on September 13, 1878, in San Francisco. For the past few years she had lived in Carmel with her sister, Mrs. Ruby McDougall, on Carmel Hills Drive. Miss Whitcomb was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Besides her sister, Miss Whitcomb is survived by two brothers, Rupert Whitcomb of San Diego and Horace V. Whitcomb of Portland, Oregon; and a cousin, Miss Winifred McCabe of Pacific Grove.

Funeral services conducted by Reverend Angus Dun, Jr. were held on Tuesday afternoon in Paul's Funeral Chapel in Pacific Grove. Burial took place on Wednesday morning in the family plot in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Music Society Will Present Duo-Pianists

The piano team of Luboshutz and Nemenoff will perform here on March 30 at Sunset Auditorium under the auspices of the Carmel Music Society. The keyboard couple, who in private life are Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Luboshutz, have thrilled audiences on three continents with their top-flight musical and performing skill. Pioneers in their field and creators of the present day demand for duo-piano recitals by virtue of their outstanding programming and virtuoso performances, today Luboshutz and Nemenoff are at the height of their career.

They replace Walter Giesekeing who was scheduled, before his death, to appear here on April 8. Music Society tickets for this date are to be used on Saturday evening.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

When people move to the woods, and discover the close proximity of animals, they often break out in a rash of words which evolves gradually into a book. This is what happened when Laurette and Jim Stanton moved to the Great North Woods of British Columbia. The book about their adventures is called Grizzlies in Their Back Yard. If you like this sort of book, you'll like this one too.

Most of the time women seem to have the habit of living longer than their husbands, but sometimes a man is left alone to rear his family by himself, and this is what happened to Ned Armstrong. After the sudden death of his wife, he decided that he would raise his baby son Edwin, and not leave the child with relatives. There were problems, of course. There was also a time when Ned planned to marry the young mother of two small boys, but he was lucky in that his mother-in-law trouble started before his marriage rather than afterwards, so the marriage never took place. All in all, the happenings during the first six years of a small boy's life are recorded in Man and Boy, and it makes a book any parent will enjoy reading.

Miracle in the Mountains, is the story of the Martha Berry school for the mountain people of Georgia. Hartnett Kane wrote it, and very well, too.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. has written a biography of his mother, Grace Wilson Vanderbilt. The title of the book is Queen of the Golden Age. From the standpoint of the construction of the book, it is interesting to know that the last four pages give a resume of the entire life of the subject. So if the tale of parties and how much they cost, begins to pall on you, skip to the last four pages and then leave the book with a sense of completion.

"If grandfather had not volunteered for the Union in 1863 and come south three years later as a missionary among the negro freedmen, our family might not have walked in such proud shoes". Proud Shoes is the title of the book by Pauli Murray, in which this statement is made. It is the life story of Pauli and her family, the Fitzgeralds, in which are mingled the blood of many races, Negro, Indian, and white. Pauli was raised as a Negro walking in proud shoes. Her book was written during two summers spent in the MacDowell Colony at Peterboro, New Hampshire. It is well worth while because she has a gift for making you see and feel the things she saw and felt as a child, a gift for writing well, that is.

There are nine novels this week, of which two are mysteries. One of the novels is a re-issued book by Somerset Maugham, originally written fifty years ago, and now revised. Its title is The Magician, and it is the thrilling story about a monstrous man named Oliver Haddo, whose appearance revolted humans and caused animals to tremble in extreme terror.

Mark Harris of San Francisco, who wrote Bang the Drum Slowly, has a new book entitled A Ticket for a Seamstress. It is another story about Henry Wiggen, and as Henry says, "If it busts you up laughing, don't blame me".

The man who wrote The Healing Oath, Andre Soubiran, has now published a book with the ominous title of Bedlam. It is the story of a man who entered an insane asylum rather than go to prison. He expected to be released as sane within a short time, but his release was postponed again and again. This is his heartbreaking story, and even though the scene is not laid in America, we know that it might well be, because some of our own institutions for the insane are operated under incredibly bad conditions. When it is described through the medium of a story, it seems almost clearer than when the medium is a description and explanation.

Nineteen new titles this week. Come in and get them.

WATER

The Most Important Thing in Life

The value of water cannot be determined.

The price of water depends upon the cost of its production.

This cost is divided into four primary categories:

The cost of operating and maintaining the plant.

The cost of replacing worn out facilities (depreciation).

The taxes paid to city, county, state, and the U.S. Government.

The cost of invested capital (stock dividends and bond interest).

When these costs are fully met a water supply system will operate successfully . . . and only then.

Firms Win A.I.A. Awards

Nathaniel Owings of Carmel Highlands and Big Sur is a member of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill who won an award of merit in the Commercial and Industrial Buildings class with their pulp factory exhibit. Gardner Daily, who spends much time in his Carmel home, is the head of Gardner Daily and Associates who won an award of merit for the Surf-Rider Hotel design in Honolulu.

The exhibit will remain on display until April 7.

New Community Church Pastor

The Reverend Donald B. Johnson, director of the Student Christian Foundation at Southern Illinois University, has resigned his position to become the first full-time pastor of the Community Church in Carmel Valley.

He will arrive here with his wife and two children in April. The Reverend Johnson, who has completed most of his requirements for a doctorate, holds bachelor's degrees from the University of Minnesota and Eastern Baptist Seminary and has studied in Europe.

He'd Make A Wonderful Teacher

Gerald Robison, class of '51 at Carmel High School, returned to school all day last Friday to tell present biology and Spanish classes at the High School about the three years he has just spent in the Argentine as a Mormon elder.

An outstanding biology student under Miss Enid Larson in 1950 he continued his biology studies at Monterey Peninsula College and Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. Then came the missionary period in the Argentine and he is now on his way back to finish his biology studies at Brigham Young.

In the Argentine Gerry lived on the pampas, and in the northern mountain and central regions. He stayed with the gauchos in their homes and learned to speak Spanish fluently. In fact Gerry now finds it easier to talk in Spanish than in English. As a special feature he entertained Carmel High students with gaucho dances performed to recorded Argentine music.

Gerry showed biology students the collection of snake and lizard skins he has made in the Argentine and plans to use in his college biology work. Some of the snakes were six feet long. He also had an iguana skin like those used for leather in the Argentine. During the three years, Gerry constantly studied the Argentine people and their customs and the plant and animal life and told his observations to the students on Friday.

Asked by the students what he was going to be when he finished college Gerry said:

"A biology teacher, of course."
"What a wonderful Spanish teacher he would make!" was the students' thought.

Col. J. Johnston

Colonel Joseph J. Johnston died early today in a local hospital after a brief illness. He was born on May 14, 1891, in Barberton, Ohio. In 1915 he graduated from Purdue University where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

After 35 years service with the United States Army, Colonel Johnston retired four years ago. He was a veteran of the Mexican campaign of 1916 and both World Wars. He has been a resident of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club for ten years.

Colonel Johnston was a member of Carmel Lodge 680 F and A M; the San Jose consistory of Scottish Rite; the Shrine Temple of Akron, Ohio; the Sojourners; Carmel Legion Post 512, and was a former vestryman of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Survivors are his wife, Elizabeth, of the Country Club; a son, Joseph Johnston Jr.; a brother, George Johnston of Akron, Ohio; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Paul's Funeral Chapel in Pacific Grove with the Reverend Angus Dun Jr., the Carmel Masonic Lodge and the Carmel American Legion Post officiating.

Private inurnment will follow in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. Paul's Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Those wishing to make memorial contributions in honor of Colonel Johnston are asked to do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Heart Association, Box 1329, Monterey.

Order Of Events For March 30 Kite Festival

Carmel's Annual Kite Festival will be on March 30. A parade starting from Sunset School at 1:15 o'clock in the afternoon precedes the kite flying. Cars and city trucks carrying participants will proceed down Ninth Street to Camino Real where, on the northeast corner, is the former home of the late Reverend Willis G. White, founder of the Carmel Kite Festival and also of the Fresno Kite Festival.

From here the parade will go along Camino Real and turn up Ocean Avenue to the High School where the kite flying and judging will take place on the playfield.

The Kite Festival is open to everyone living in the Carmel Unified School District with no age limit, subject to the following rules: the kite must be made by the person entering it; each kite maker may enter one contest other than the high flying, every kite must be flown to win a prize and no commercial kites will be allowed.

There are four classes in each age division: high flying, prettiest, smallest and largest. Age groups are seven years old and under, eight years through 11 years, 12 years through 15 years and 16 years and older.

All kites will be entered in the Willis G. White contest for the best international kite, most unusual kite according to design and shape, and grand champion kite contests.

Ribbons, plus prizes will be awarded in each event.

Harriet Duncan Shop Celebrates Birthday

One of Carmel's best known women's specialty shops enjoys a birthday—its ninth—this week. It was in March, 1947, that Harriet Duncan first opened her exclusive shop, "...offering casually elegant clothes for Peninsula living..." Then, as now, the location was the Patterson Building, on Sixth Avenue, between Dolores and Lincoln.

"Our success has been made possible by the patronage of our customers," Miss Duncan says. "It has been a joyous endeavor all through the years, a joy to live here, and a joy to serve those who have come to us."

A decade ago Miss Duncan (Mrs. Wesley Zingel in private life) was a top level executive with the internationally known Van Raalte company. She and her husband, during a Carmel visit, followed the inevitable pattern—fell in love with the area, and returned to their home only long enough to rearrange their affairs so they might move back here, and open a shop. The Harriet Duncan Shop became a reality in March, 1947. Wesley Zingel, a highly successful business executive, long ago transferred his interests here to serve as his wife's partner.

Over the years Miss Duncan has been influential in directing Peninsula fashions through her sponsorship of fine domestic and imported sweaters, skirts, coats, "casually elegant" dresses, and the separates which by now have become standards in the wardrobes of smartly dressed women. "Fashion is our business," states Miss Duncan. "We have always stood for quality and always will."

Church Women's Institute

United Church Women is holding a series of institutes in northern California for information, inspiration and fellowship among women's Protestant groups. For the church women of this area the meeting will be held on April 4 in Santa Cruz at the Congregational Church at Center and Lincoln Streets. The time is 9:30 to 3:00, beginning with registration and a coffee hour, with a small fee required but no offering will be taken.

Theme for the day is Christ to the World we bring, and speakers are Mrs. A. R. Jewell, Mrs. N. K. McGowan, and Mrs. David Kratz. Women are to bring their lunches, with tea and coffee served by the hostess church. This will give local women a chance to keep in touch with the religious movements and developments in women's organizations of the Protestant churches. All interested women are invited.

Crosswinds is the name of a television program given on Channel 4 by U.C.W., "presenting everyday problems of everyday people like you, your family and your neighbor" on Sundays at 12:30. It was started by the women in February.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Man's God-given dominion over material laws of sickness and limitation will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" will include the following from Isaiah (33:20,22): "Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes of thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. . . . For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (380:32-1): "Every law of matter or the body, supposed to govern man, is rendered null and void by the law of Life, God."

The Golden Text is from Colossians (3:2): "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

Planning Board Will Recommend Almost All Of Livingston's Plan

(2) The central business district will have two areas:

(a) C-1, retail stores and personal services.

(b) C-2, more extensive use including commercial services.

(3) Ocean Avenue to be closed to traffic from Junipero to Monte Verde Streets. The parts of the north-south streets in this area, marked on the Master Plan to be closed between Sixth and Seventh Streets, be left open to traffic.

(4) The proposed Civic Center be adopted. This is the area at the East end of the Ocean Avenue Mall including Devendorf Plaza through to Seventh Street; two complete blocks.

(5) The school development marked on the plan should be left, as the Plan follows future expansion plans of the school district.

(6) All parks marked on the Plan be adopted, including acquisition of the Mission Ranch, Jeffers property, Eighty Acres Canyon starting in front of the Mission, and land in Hatton Fields and above the hospital. The shore line land on the ocean side of Scenic, south to State beach, also to be acquired to provide "a continuous line of beaches."

(7) The green belt be preserved.

(8) All future highway and road development marked on the plan be adopted with two changes. There should be no closing of present Highway One from Carpenter Street to Valley Way and development of Junipero Street as a four lane street stop at Eighth Street.

(9) The Ring Plan be adopted. This closes alternate intersections in the residential district to stop through traffic.

Former Councilwoman Geraldine Smith, speaking from the audience, said that "this would be a step away from annexation, rather than a step toward it," and should the outlying districts have the benefits of city services at low cost without sharing the responsibilities of city government?

Council decided to abstain from action of any kind until after the unincorporated tax election next Tuesday, and refused to make any commitment.
